Leonard Discloses Fall Enrollment Freeze At 4,200 Regular, 2,000 Part-Time Students

"WHO'S GOT THE MOST?"

All they want are the bare facts and don't try to conceal them. Alpha Chi Alpha and Delta Phi Gamma are desperately trying to ascertain which male and female student will win their "Who has the most" contest being held in conjunction with the Campus King contest. The winner will be announced at the dance "Night in Wonderland" tonight.

The picture, oh yes, may we present the Golden Gater candidate for the girl with the most curves, Mary Castle, Universal International starlet.

White-hot Battle Rages Over Council Authority

By DALE TUSSING

A white-hot meeting of the Board of Directors ended last Tuesday in orderly disagreement with a motion passed but no solution to the question of how much authority the Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Council has.

Joe Velardo, Beta Chi Delta representative to the I.F.S.C., came to the Board asking for a ruling on an action by the council to prevent a sorority from pledging any new members this semester.

Velardo declared that the action was illegal, and that the I.F.S.C could not penalize an organization for violating regulations never approved by the parent organization, the Club Advisory Association.

SUBSIDIARY COUNCIL

The I.F.S.C. is a subsidiary council of the C.A.A., and according to the by-laws, has an "advisory and informative capacity."

The council had passed new rushing and pledging regulations, and the penalized sorority had reportedly violated the regulations, which were actually a "gentlemen's agreement" according to C.A.A. President George Poquette.

Roger Martin, chairman of the I.F.S.C and Kappa Omega representative, answered Velardo. He stated that the council has been working for quite some time to make itself an organization which is somewhat independent of the C.A.A., and can conduct business which is of no concern to non-fraternal organizations.

"I'm not trying to be humorous," Martin said, "but the fraternities and sororities don't want to have to wash out their dirty laundry in front of—say—the Psych Club or the Humanities Club."

He added that the ruling had been accepted unanimously by all member organizations of the I.F.S.C., and that the sorority now had admitted it was in the wrong.

Facilities Near Maximum Accommodations At 6150

By MAC HILLIARD

Total enrollments at S.F. State College have been frozen at 6200 full and part-time students by Fall of next year, according to S.F. State President J. Paul Leonard.

This disclosure was made publicly for the first time by Dr. Leonard during a Kiwanis Club luncheon this week in which he sounded the need for expanded facilities in the state education program and warned of an expected tripling of college enrollments during the next two decades.

Although S.F. State only opened its new campus facilities for general use this fall, both the old and the new campuses are operating dangerously close to their peak of efficiency even before dedication ceremonies have been held for the 12 million dollar addition in the Lake Merced area.

RECORD ENROLLMENT

Figures released by the registrar last week set total enrollment at 6150 regular and part-time students. Dr. Leonard has set the limits for future enrollments at 4200 for regular students and 2000 for limited students.

The decision for setting the ceiling enrollment springs from the administrative council after a study of enrollment figures.

ANTICIPATE INCREASE

The significance of this announcement lies in the fact that State education authorities have predicted a general growth in enrollments in all ten state colleges from the present 26,000 to 46,000 by 1958 and a 62,000 peak by 1965, according to Dr. Leonard.

With a record figure in freshman and transfer student enrollments this semester, the general prognosis is that either considerable new facilities should be prepared to meet the rising demand, or entrance requirements must be significantly stiffened.

Requests have already been made with the state legislature to provide more facilities in the face of increased demands on current classroom space.

Voting Today for Freshman Officers

Awaiting the counting of the ballots cast in the Fall Associated Students election, a galaxy of candidates for freshman president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and representative-at-large confronted voters as they trudged to the polls in the gym.

Assured of turning in a winning effort are Carol Bondshu and Susan Benjamin who are running unopposed for representatives-at-large (under 32 units). They will serve on the Board of Directors.

Pat Peterson and Bonnie Baltsen are vieing for first semester freshman representatives at-large (under 16 units). All members of the Associated Students are eligible to vote for representatives at-large.

In comparison to the scarcity of candidates for representative, freshman voters must choose from a multitude of presidential hopefuls, ten in all; they include Ray Shepard, James Donovan, George Katayama, Ben Jacopetti, Jack Brush, Robert Kramer, Ernest G. Howard, Leo Tarantino, Don Crawford, and Pete Thomson.

Battling for the freshman class' favor is such vice-presidential timber as Ann Ward, Dawn Yaley, Robert Hemby, Marian Stewart, Jackie Overstreet, and Pervis Atkins.

In the running for secretary-treasurer are Lorraine Elizarde, Barbara Vincenti, Carol DeMartini, Sharon McCulley, Betty Lou Hooey, Betty Brown and Barbara Swanson.

Opening Theatre Production, 'The Seagull', October 21-24

Seagulls have been circling the campus in droves lately in what Dion Chesse has called "natural publicity" for the S.F. State drama season-opener, Anton Chekhov's "The Seagull."

The production will be given Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights, October 21, 22, 23 and 24, at 8:00 in Frederick Burk auditorium.

Chesse, State graduate student and director of tragi-comedy, has been eager to bring to State Theatre a new, vital interpretation of Chekhov. His settings are going to be simple in design in an attempt "to let the full depth of the drama create its own setting." "We feel the acting is of greater importance than mere stage embellishment," Chesse stated.

Heading the first drama cast of the season are Margery Werby as Arakadina, a middle-aged actress; Dick Frewin as Constantin, her son; Gary Hughes as Sorin, her brother; Judith Hatie as Nina, daughter of a rich land owner; and Ted Samuels as Trigorin, an author.

The cast will be completed with Bill Hastings, Lorraine Roache, Vivian Breslin, Jim Thursby, Ray Fry, and Bruce Chesse in minor roles.

Chekhov, considered by many to be one of the greatest playwrights since Shakespeare, was the herald of the new era of the "naturalistic" style of the theatre. This realistic interpretation will be tried at Frederic Burk auditorium.

Tickets for the production are currently on sale at the drama box office, old campus. Prices are 60 cents for students, and 90 cents general admission.

Dr. Grady also revealed that the subject of the three-day conclave will be "Twentieth-century Colonialism: Out of Changes in an Old Order, New Problems for America."

Dr. Thomas C. Blaisdell, Jr. is daily associated with the leaders of the territories concerned, those leaders who are coming to America for assistance in meeting the many problems which nationhood, present or future, raises for them.

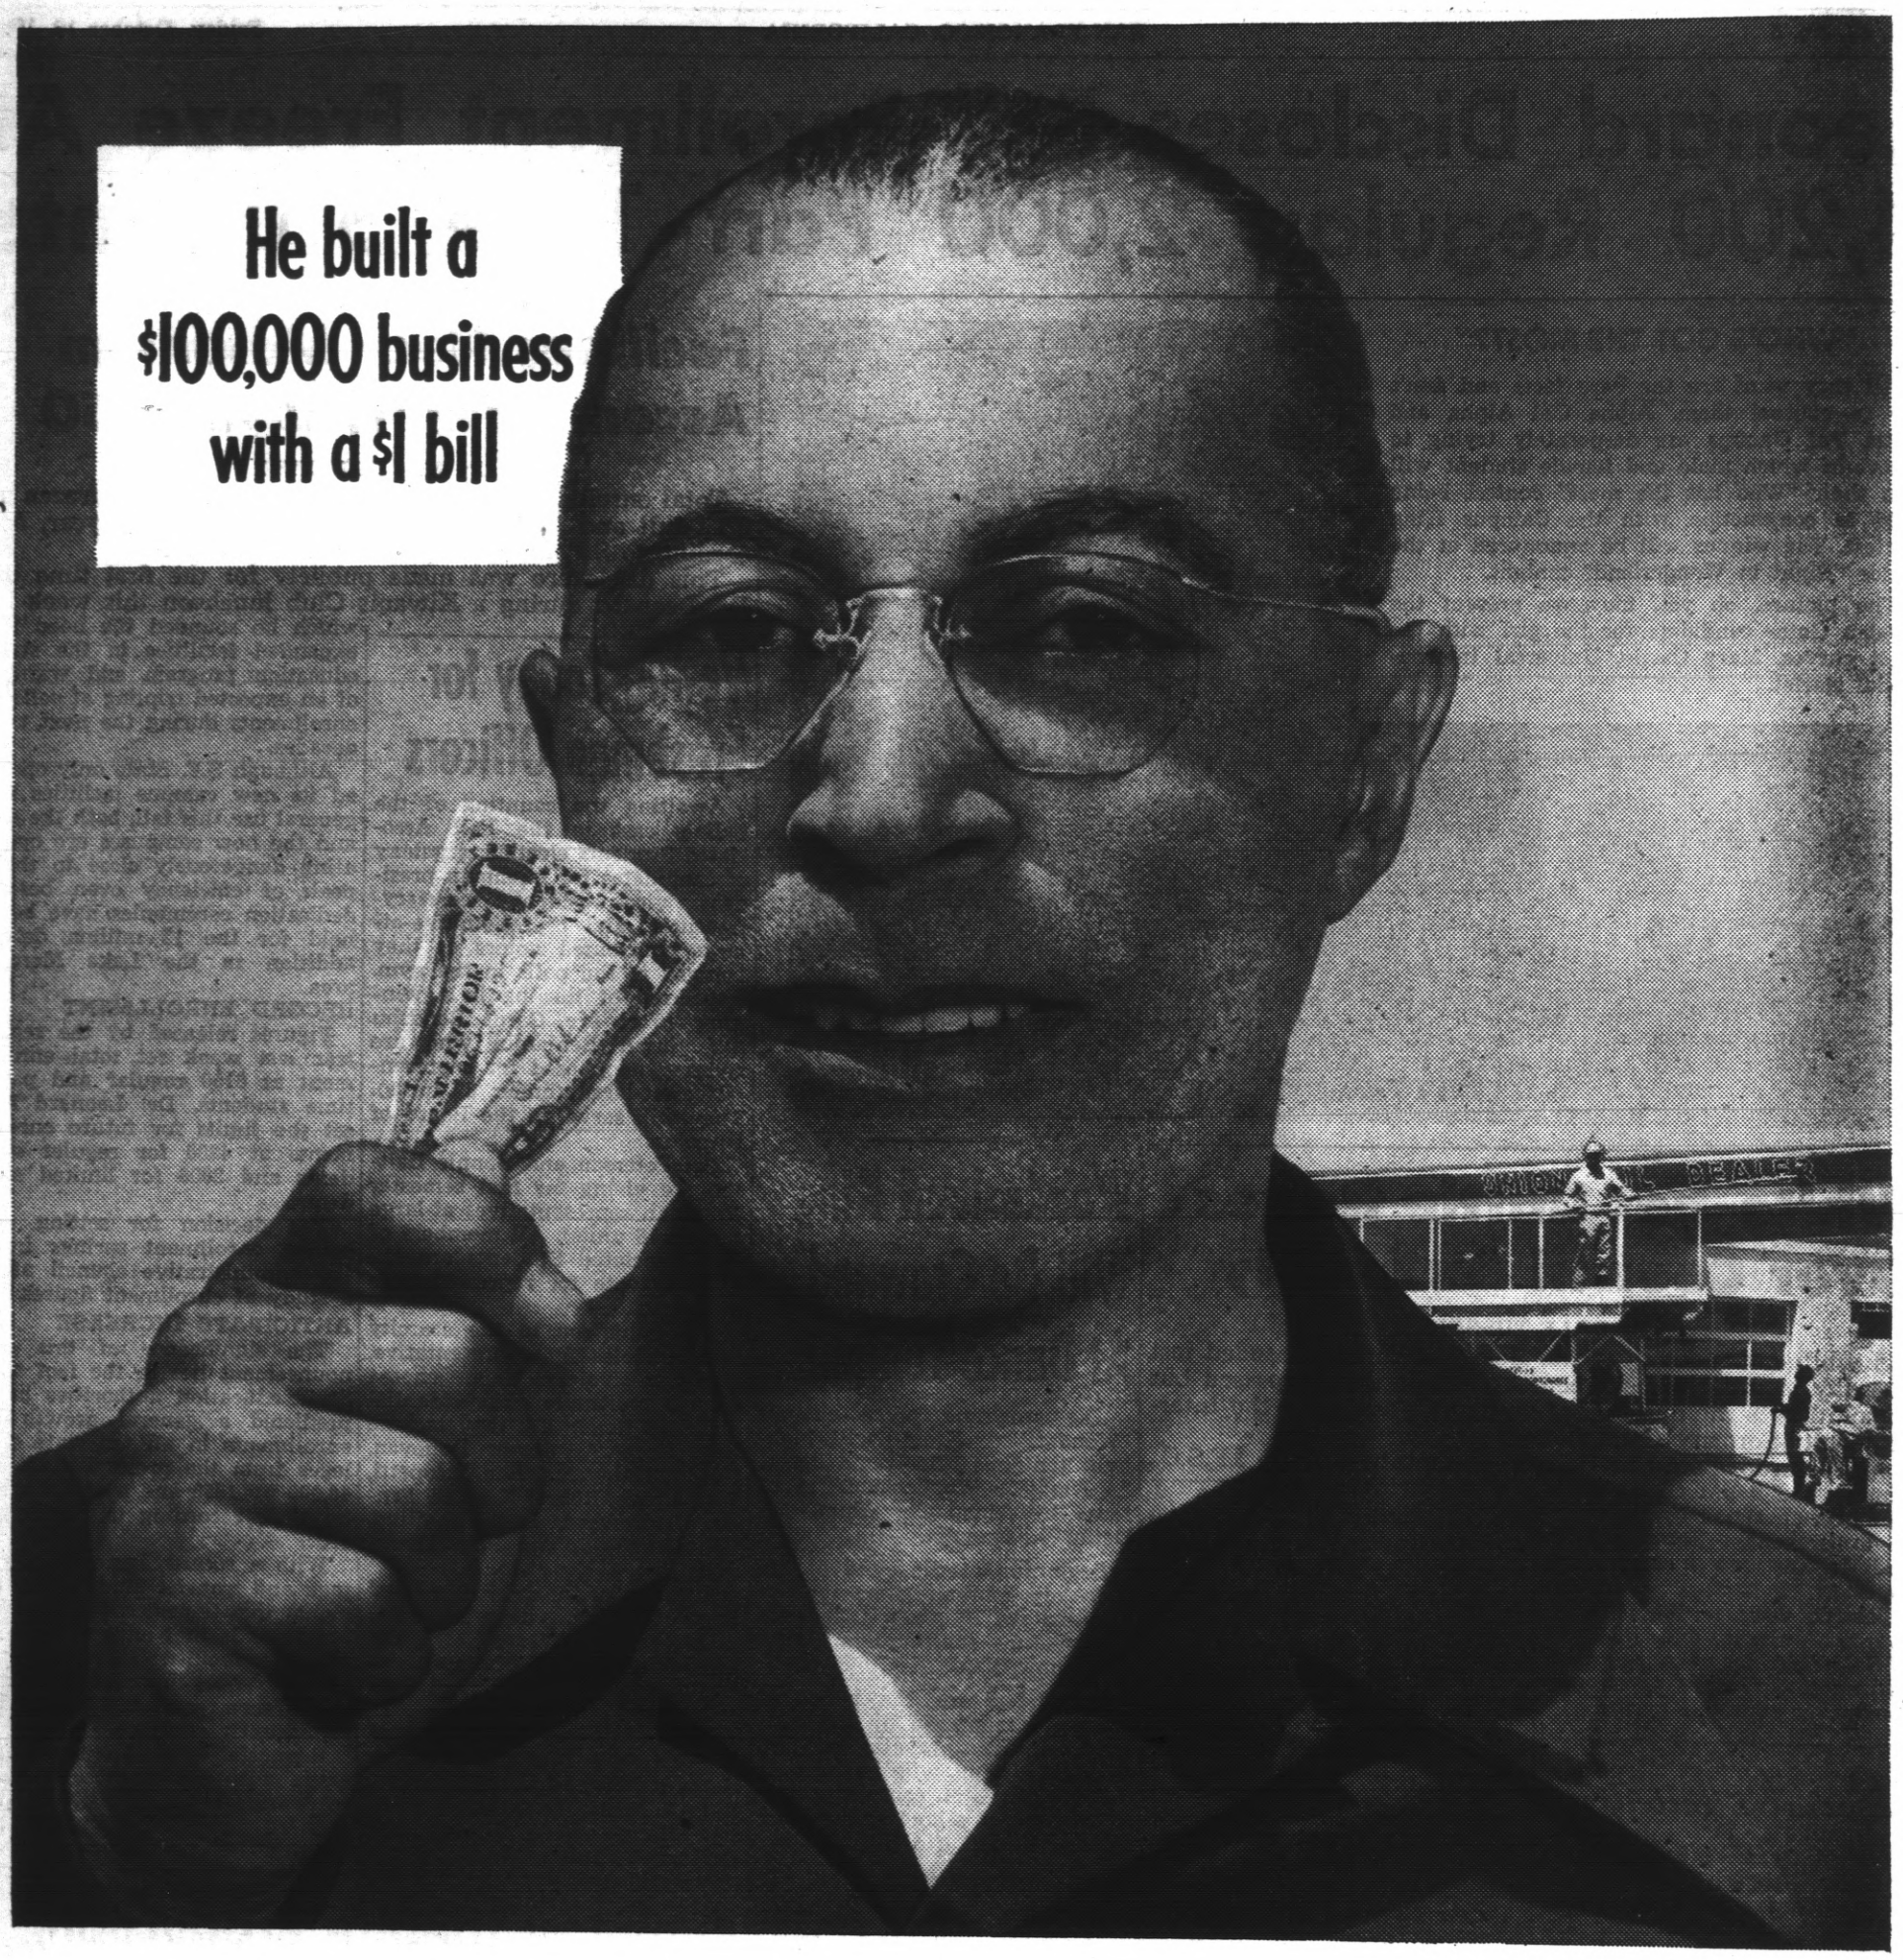
A Cappella Choir's Fame

The A Capella Choir consists of 50-60 mixed voices. It is well known as one of the finest singing groups throughout the West. The Choir makes numerous trips to radio and television and local concerts as well as their annual tour.



1. George Sevelle, at 26, had been a waiter, window-dresser, candy-maker and race driver's mechanic. In spare moments, he dabbled in home chemistry. Through this hobby he developed a paint cleaner and preserver. In 1939, he brought his product to Union Oil.

2. Sevelle demonstrated how it could be used to "launder" our service stations with better results and for less money than we had been spending. Naturally we were interested in improving station appearance at less cost. So Sevelle took on the job of cleaning several Union Oil stations on a regular schedule. He was in business for himself.

3. The sole drawback was that Sevelle had no truck to haul his equipment from station to station. His capital consisted of a single dollar. So Union Oil agreed to lease him one truck. He did such a good job that his contract was soon expanded to cover 150 stations.

4. Today Sevelle is almost an institution. He contracts for the cleaning of 4,000 Union Oil stations in 7 western states. He employs 35 men, operates 12 big trucks and 6 house trailers where his crews live in comfort. On top of running a $100,000 a year business, he's a Southern California community leader, an active member of five local organizations.

5. This story is important, we think, for several reasons. First, it's a real rebuttal to the defeatists who say there's no opportunity left in the U.S.A. for a go-getter who'd like to be his own boss. We say (and Sevelle seconds us) that there's ample room for the ambitious to spread their wings.

6. Sevelle's success also points up something many people don't realize—the relationship between big and small business in every field of industry is healthy and helpful. Each is dependent on the other. So as Union Oil grows, it helps other enterprises grow too. After all, any company keeps on growing only as long as it pleases people.

19th Avenue Deathtrap for Students

As it now exists, 19th avenue is a potential deathtrap for drivers as well as pedestrians coming to school. The students of San Francisco State are pitifully lacking in safety precautions enjoyed by students of other schools.

In addition to the lack of pedestrian crosswalk zones, there are no signs on 19th avenue between Winston Way and Holloway designating a school zone, except those posted by the AAA.

PARKING COMPLAINTS

Drivers hazard oncoming traffic while making a left turn on Holloway to return to metropolitan San Francisco. Pedestrians dodge traffic while going between the school and the street car stop. Yet, the only complaints received by the police department are those of irate neighbors on students parking in driveways. This seems to indicate that parking problems are foremost in the minds of people over the safety of commuting students.

The San Francisco police department has posted a motorcycle policeman on 19th avenue to help alleviate the problem, but he can only be in one place at a time. Safety devices are needed.

UNDERPASS ON 19TH AVENUE

The safety council of San Francisco State went on record last year as favoring an underpass between the campus and the streetcar stop for pedestrians.

If this seems too costly for the officials, the record of pedestrian fatalities in San Francisco for the month of September might need examination. The nine deaths here tripled the monthly average for San Francisco. As of October 8 there were 49 traffic deaths in San Francisco this year, 32 of which were pedestrians.

GOING THROUGH CHANNELS

The responsibility for the problem lies in two areas, the State and the City. Nineteenth avenue is a state highway, but it lies within the city limits of San Francisco. An ordinance was placed before the San Francisco Board of Supervisors on September 2, 1953, to have a crosswalk painted on 19th avenue. However, the usual channels need negotiating. In the meanwhile, students are being jeopardized.

The students of San Francisco State are commuters, and as such, deserve every safety precaution taken in their behalf to insure a safe journey between home and school.

This is the third and last of an editorial series pointing out some of the hazards facing commuting students. An interested student, Mr. Harold Freedman, aided in compiling material.

Kiwanians Present $1000 Fund for Scholarship in Ceremony Here

Temporarily Aids In Emergencies

Under the soft lights of the Student Union's faculty room, President Leonard and Sami Judah, member-at-large of the Associated Students, accepted a $1,000 Scholarship Fund from chairman Frank Gordon of the San Francisco Kiwanis Club Welfare Committee.

Some of the purposes of the loan fund are to help overseas students temporarily in the payment of their fees at college and also for other emergencies that may arise from delays in payments from their countries.

Helping to establish the fund were Dean Johnson of the college and President of the Kiwanis club, Raymond Hanson. The loan will be designated officially as "The Kiwanis Club of San Francisco Loan Fund for Overseas Students."

The method of distributing loans will be worked out with the San Francisco State College Foundation, a non-profit corporation. The rules now set up are as follows: 1. Requests must go through the Overseas Adviser; 2. Applications may be obtained from the office of the Associate Dean of Students; 3. A service charge of $1 will be made for one who receives the loan; 4. Approval of disbursements of funds will be given in the Business Office of the college.

Among those present at the ceremony representing the college administration were President Paul Leonard, Dean John Bergstresses, Dean Alan Johnson.

Boiler Room Letters

Your article published in the October 2 1953 Golden Gater aroused my curiosity. Dr. S. I. Hayakawa's statement "Americans need no longer fear the threat of Communism," notably out of context, puzzled me. In the succeeding paragraphs no direct connection is shown between his comparison of "feudal" etiquette in matters of communication and our democratic means of communication and his study of communication in the communist state.

The implication is that because communism employs the same modes of communication the Hitler regime did, that the former will eventually fail. Perhaps, and in view of Dr. Hayakawa's conclusion, Americans should no longer "fear" the threat of communism; but we certainly should be aware of the eminent danger thereof and should think and act accordingly.

Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"Go bury your head in the sand," shrieked Sheedy's chick. You'll never put a wing on my finger until you start using Wildroot Cream-Oil on that messy hair. It's America's favorite hair tonic. Keeps hair combed without any trace of greasiness. Removes goose, ugly dandruff. Relieves annoying dryness. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test." State's Cross Country Team Opens Season Against Cal Poly, Modesto

San Francisco State's long distance men get off to a running start this afternoon at 4 p.m. when they meet Cal Poly and Modesto Junior College on the Lake Merced course.

The race will cover approximately four miles and will start and finish in front of the men's gymnasium.

This afternoon's contest will be the first test for the Gator cross country team this season. According to Coach Hal Grant, "Today's meet may determine how successful a season we will have. Cal Poly has traditionally been a strong opponent. If we get over the Mustangs I believe we will have an excellent year.

State's team is led by veteran Jim Shettler. Jim, president of the sophomore class, holds the S.F. State mile record (4:30.5) in addition to the 1950 Dipsea crown and many other distance laurels. Close on Shettler's heels is Warren Fairbanks, intramural mile record holder and member of last year's distance team. Warren also earned his letter as a two miler on the track team.

Two freshmen are expected to bolster the team considerably. They are Gary Quick, a 2:02 880 man from Chowchilla; and Al Schenoza, a 2:01 880 man from Jefferson High. Other men on the team are Bert Phillips, student body president, and 440 man on the '51 track team; Welton Moore, JV footballer and 880 man on the '53 track team; Robert Bishop and Peter Thorp.

Leading the Modesto JC team will be Dalton Wyatt. Wyatt set the Modesto course record last year for the 3.1 mile course. State's Warren Fairbanks was right behind him with a time of 15:29.

The exact strength of the Cal Poly squad is not known. However, Coach Jim Jensen always fields a strong team. Last year Allie Cage, 9:55 two-miler, led the Mustangs to an excellent season.H. G.

Dons Down Gator Soccer Squad 3-0; Mee Stanford Tomorrow in Palo Alto

Soccer Coach Art Bridgeman expressed himself as "disappointed" over last week's 3-0 loss to the USF Dons as the Gators readied themselves for another of the league's strong teams. The Staters will meet Stanford tomorrow at 11:30 a.m. in Stanford stadium as a preliminary to the Stanford-UCLA football game.

Bridgeman called the game "a poor showing" and named as two contributing factors the wind and the referee whose decisions, said Bridgeman, hurt both teams. USF had previously been tied 1-1 by CCSF, which last week was beaten by Stanford, 2-0.

The Dons were rated as weaker than last season by Bridgeman who stated that even though USF pushed three goals past freshman goalie, Rosenberg, the Gator netman stood up well in his first league contest. Bridgeman also complimented Gus Putacarrero at center-half; and Herb Anderson at center-half.

On the basis of comporative scores the Stanfordites should rate the top spot in the league, but the Gators may surprise them in tomorrow's contest at Palo Alto. Stanford boasts three S.F. State alumni on their starting squad, Charlie Andrews, an all-American last season for the Gators, Charlie Hanson, and Jim Couture, all searters on last season's S.F. State team.

MY SIDE

By KEITH PINCKNEY

The crowd at last Friday's Gator-Moffett Field contest must have been real dyed-in-the-wool football fans. The drizzle that haunted the ball-handlers on the field was none too pleasant for those in the stands, yet, with many of them standing to avoid the soaking seats, they stuck it out to the slam-bang finish.

Actually, the 20-13 score in the contest belies the powerful offensive shown off by the S.F. State squad. Running up 17 first downs to the Flyer's four, the Gators were hurt by the wet ball and a strong Moffett Field line that buckled down to business whenever the S.F. State squad came within sight of paydirt.

SEVEN'S A CROWD?

When this writer arrived at Cox Stadium, a crowd of seven was huddled on the State side of the field and prospects looked dim that a quorum would show for the contest, but by the opening whistle the rooting section, at least, was near capacity and more arrived after the kickoff.

Incidentally, one little item that caused some comment in the press box, but apparently passed unnoticed down on the field, concerned an interesting action by the officials in the contest. One of the boys in the striped shirts called a 15 yard penalty against the Gators, then passed off ten yards and set the ball down with a signal to resume play. (No one squawked.)

A SORRY STATE OF AFFAIRS

Apologies to the student heading up intramural bowling for the omission of the story containing the meeting date for those interested in the sport. Space limitations caused an unfeeling managing editor to yank the item at the last minute. With a special rate of 35 cents a line allowed participants in the league, it would be a going concern if this page would ever let it get started. Mr. Harkness in the men's gym can probably put anyone who can fit his fingers into a bowling ball, in touch with the gentleman in charge.

A COMEDIAN, YET

One of the announcers located in a booth to one side of the press box had Friday's game-crowd in stitches, and Paul Speigal, the instructor in charge, in convulsions with his verbal miscues. Mr. Speigal's protege got off some beauts, including, "It's third yard and 20 to go for State," and "stopped by the middle of the Squate stod line."

Members of the press were near hysterics when the flustered aspirant to Jerry Lewis' throne announced that there were "25 minutes left to play in the third quarter." Fans were no doubt grateful for the light touch in an otherwise soggy game.

Quarterback Maury Duncan surprised everyone, apparently including Coach Joe Verducci, when he drop-kicked for the first extra point. Following the second Gator touchdown, Duncan tried it again but the ball went low, leaving the game at a 13-13 tie until the last 44 seconds. The wet ball was apparently a consideration in Duncan's decision to go it alone. State turned to the conventional method after the Gator's third touchdown of the evening.

GATORS SCORE IN LAST FEW SECONDS; DOWN FLYERS 20-13

By CAROL MUNROE

A defensive holding penalty in the last 44 seconds of play gave San Francisco State a 20-13 victory over a highly spirited Moffett Field eleven last Friday at Cox Stadium.

With the score tied at 13-13 a shivering crowd of 2500 watched the Bremond brothers, Harry and Walt, spark a 12 play 71 yard drive to the Moffett 17 late in the fourth quarter. The next three plays saw the Gators advance only one yard.

On fourth down the Flyers were penalized 15 yards for defensive holding. With a first down on the Moffett one Maury Duncan scored on a quarterback sneak. Sam Bonnano, a third string tackle, booted the PAT.

EXPLOSIVE ATTACK

Rudy Smith,, the team's top scorer in 1950, opened up the scoring late in the first period when he took a handoff from Duncan and romped over tackle for nine yards and a TD. Duncan drop-kicked the extra point.

Moffett retaliated in the middle of the second quarter when Byrd engineered a 40 yard touchdown drive in 12 plays. Byrd, himself, went over from the three on a quarterback sneak.

Late in the second period Norm Erstad intercepted a Duncan aerial on the State 49 and returned it to the 29. Three plays later Bryd tossed to Kutzera on the 10. Kutzera went over standing up. The PAT was good leaving the half-time score at 13-7.

FINAL TALLY

With five minutes left in the game Duncan passed to Wehner for 12 yards and a TD. Duncan's aerial culminated an eight play, 55 yard drive. Duncan's drop-kick was unsuccessful to leave the score knotted at 13-13. Then came the game-winning touchdown.

Tonight the Gators meet the undefeated Mustangs from Cal Poly. The contest starts at 8 p.m.

Gators, Mustangs Tangle In Battle of Undefeated

By DAVE KRUG

Two unbeaten records go on the line tonight as the Golden Gators of State match their passing wizardry against the hard-running Cal Poly Mustangs. The contest is scheduled to get under way at 8 p.m. in Cox Stadium.

"The big one," as Coach Joe Verducci of the Gators puts it, should see the New Campus athletic plant jammed with S.F. State supporters. Last week 2500 rabid football fans sat in a chilling drizzle to watch the Staters down the Moffett Field Flyers, 20-13. Fair, cool weather was predicted for tonight's contest.

DOWN FRESNO

The Mustangs come to San Francisco straight from a crushing 59-6 win over Santa Barbara State.

With a hard-running group in the backfield, all of whom were named to the California College Athletic Association all-star squad, the Mustangs are primarily known as a running team.

DUNCAN COMPLETES 17

Harry Bremond, hard-charging halfback and Maury Duncan, veteran quarterback and Little-All-American nominee, should spark the offense for the Gators. Last week Duncan passed a slippery ball to 17 completions and 182 yards, while Bremond turned mudder to roll up 63 yards rushing. Tackle Bob Foote, and end George Wehner played 60 minute football and led the Gators in the line.

Bob "Bull" Lawson runs from the fullback spot for the Mustangs, while veteran back Bob Neal calls the signals from the winged T formation for Lawson and for halfbacks Alex Bravo and Thad Murrin.

Cal-Poly will provide the acid test for the Purple and Gold of San Francisco State.

LAST WIN IN 1946

In ten previous encounters with the Mustangs, the Gators have come off a poor second, winning one, tying one and losing eight. The Gators last beat Cal Poly in 1946.

A wide open, high scoring contest is expected by Gator Coach Joe Verducci, who says that it is only a question of who will score the most often.

Sportrait

Bob Foote had a hand in virtually every play of last Friday night's State win over Moffett Field, and thereby garnered himself a pressbox consensus vote of confidence to become this week's outstanding player.

Foote, a bruising 6 ft. 2 in., 210 pound senior tackle, did not play the type of game that would catch the ordinary spectator's eye. He did not engage in any spectacular plays. break a leg of the opposing team's star, or score any touchdowns.

He merely made numerous tackles himself, set up other tackles for his teammates while on defense, or ripped holes in the enemy's forward wall when State had the pigskin. All in all. it could be said that Foote tripped up many an ambitious opposing player, and held the right side of State's comparatively small line secure.

Foote, 25, is agile, strong and experienced. It was at first thought that Bob would have trouble going both ways while playing under the new rules, since he had played mainly offense last year. But burly Bob fooled them all by proving himself just as effective on defense as he is on the attack. Foote is a genuine candidate for Little-All Coast honors, and if he keeps his present pace the big tackle could become one of the Pacific Coast's outstanding linemen.

Coach Comments

"The Moffett Field game was a rough, tough one. However injuries to key players were minimized and every boy on the squad should be ready to go for the big one tonight against Cal Poly. Harry Bremond and Maury Duncan in the backfield both moved the ball well, while George Wehner and Bob Foote played outstanding football in the line while remaining in the contest the entire 60 minutes.

"Tonight is the big one. Cal Poly has its best team ever and has been scoring almost at will against strong opponents. We'll score against them, but it's just a question of who scores the most. It should be a wide open game offensively, and we hope the students will continue to support us by coming out to see this one. Crowd support is one of the vital factors in any winning effort.

J.V. Lose Battle To Reedly; 59-6

State's JV football train collided with Reedly JC Saturday with the Gators losing a strong 59-6.

State recived the kick-off and started on a 60 yard march to paydirt. Behind the signal calling of Marv Tolson, and the running of halfbacks Milt Kelly and Jack Sanders, the Staters couldn't be stopped. Sanders plunged over the goal line from six yards out. Tolson missed the conversion, but State was out in front 6-0.

As soon as Reedly got the ball. State was through. After three plays Reedly's star halfback went 65 yards for a touchdown and a short while later they marched for another marker. The quarter ended with Reedly ahead 14-6.

In the second quarter State moved to Reedly's 45 yard line. Izzy Galente swept around end and went all the way but there was a penalty and the Gaters finally lost the ball on downs.

Another of Reedly's charging backs ripped through State for another score and returned a Gator punt for 85 yards.

At this point Pervis Atkins came in for State and unleashed a passing attack which baffled Reedly. Atkins threw passes to Ray Nelson and Leon Cathey which moved the Gators to Reedly's 18 yard line.

State's luck again went bad as they fumbled and lost the pigskin. The Gators left the field at half time trailing 26-6.

In the second half Reedly tore through State five times to pay dirt. Such Gators as Atkins, Nelson, Rowley. Jay Mac Allister, Bill Brudney, and Jim Lambertson couldn't seem to penetrate the strong Reedly eleven, but they all made an excellent showing.

Thailand Visitor Speaks To History Class Here

By HELEN HERRICK

Dean Rong Syamananda of the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Chulalongkorn, Bangkok, Thailand, was a visitor on State's campus Friday, October 9.

Speaking to Dr. T. E. Treutlein's World History 100 class at 10 a.m., and to Dr. Hacker's Political Geography class at 1 p.m., Dean Syamananda was enthusiastic both of the United States and of his own Thailand.

This distinguished visitor is here on a two month's grant from the State Department on the Exchange of Persons Program to study education programs in colleges, universities and schools throughout the nation.

Professor of National and World history and Dean of the College of Liberal Arts at Chulalongkorn University, Syamananda was enthusiastic in his statement, "We are free, and we are proud to be free. In our country we abolished slavery in 1908, and established compulsory education in 1951."

Today, however, only 50 per cent of Thailanders are literate, partly because of inaccessibility of schools to some, and partly because some parents keep their children home to perform work on the farm.

Compulsory education applies to those between 8 and 15 years of age, and provides four years elementary school, eight years secondary school, total of 12 years being required for University entrance.

"Thail" means "free" and through their Constitutional Monarchy they plan to stay that way. While under the influence of other countries they were not allowed to charge more than 3 per cent excise duty, and being a small country were forced to grant "extra-territoriality" to England, United States, and other Countries. This meant these countries did not have to go to the high courts of Thailand (then Siam) in regard to disagreements in which they became involved.

"We are free and independent in all respects now, for all have to go to high court and we can impose any customs we want," explained the Dean.

Tiny as a country, Thailand declared war on Germany in World War I and participated in World War II. She was the first country to send troops to the Korean outburst in 1950. "Presently we are trying to get rid of inflation. Our cost of living is now about ten times what it was before the war," Syamananda said.

Syamananda admires the prosperity and high standards found in this country such as modern conveniences, highways, schools, and freedom of the students, but would not like to see pupils in Thailand have the same freedom. "They might not want to learn, and might go astray," he feels.

"We teach our students to behave and to have discipline. We believe in spanking."

Students at the University of Chulalongkorn are not allowed to study politics. "We don't want it. We expect them to devote their time to their studies. They can devote the next 30 or 40 years to politics if they like." he said.

Schools run three terms yearly, in Thailand, each term 12 weeks long, and comprehensive examinations are held. All students and teachers wear uniforms, the teacher's neckband designating his department. We are probably not quite so happy without uniforms as we might be, the Dean stated.

Legally women are equal to men, but there is no dating system. Parents still keep girls at home and watch them closely.

"We are friendly to all countries," stated Dean Syamananda, "but we don't want to show off and advertise ourselves as some of our neighbors do.

I am very happy with this, my first visit to America, and I hope I will be back soon."

'Seagull' Opener For Fall Drama

The S.F. State College Theatre's opening production of the fall semester will be a play acknowledged as one of the great milestones in the drama—Anton Chekhov's "The Seagull."

This is the first time a Chekhov play has been produced at State. Student Director Dion Chesse has assembled a cast of familiar State College actors, as well as several new-comers.

Included in the cast are, Margery Werby, Ted Samuel, Gary Hughes, Dick Frewin, Bill Hastings, Vivian Breslin, Lorriane Roche, and Jim Thursby. New to the State College Theatre are Ray Fry, and Judith Hatie.

According to Director Chesse "the Seagull" presents a great challenge to both actors and director. This is the play that brought instant acclaim to Stanislavsky and the Moscow Art Theatre at the turn of the century. Chekhov's play requires a 'realistic' style of acting, which caused revolutionary changes in every aspect of theatre in the twentieth century.

Also included in the drama department's fall program will be three faculty-directed one-act plays by Mr. Jules Irving, Ralph McCormick and Richard Glyer. These plays have been especially designed to give the more inexperienced students an opportunity to work under the faculty directors. Tryouts were held Oct. 13 and 14.

Stegophilists in England; No Raid On Campus Co-ed

Today's undergraduates in England, according to Philip Whittemore in the October Reader's Digest, neither swallow live goldfish nor launch panty raids on co-ed dormitories.

For their extra-curricular diversion they have adopted "stegophilism"—from the Greek "stege," meaning roof, and "philos," meaning crazy about. In a word, they are crazy about roofs, therefore they climb roofs and whatever happens to be higher, such as the Martyr's Memorial, Oxford's 73-foot lesser peak; the 200-foot Radcliffe Camera, which is Oxford's Matterhorn; and the even higher Tom Tower, which is Oxford's Mt. Everest. Cambridge has its famous summits, too, and so do other British institutions of learning.

The stegophilists operate by night, for the exercise of their hobby is strictly forbidden by educational authorities. "In a dozen English schools and universities," Whittemore writes, "hardy, anonymous athletes are training for the eventual conquest of Swiss or Himalayan peaks by pitting their muscles against the pinnacles and drainpipes of their college buildings. The fact that the authorities frown upon such sport, and expel anyone caught indulging in it, adds a delightful piquancy not found in the Alps themselves."

INTRAMURAL BOWLING

Intramural bowling will get underway with a preliminary meeting to be held in room 5A of the new campus gymnasium. The confab, to be held October 12 at 12 noon, will discuss the formation of a new league. Saturday or Sunday afternoons are the projected times for the bowling, which will take place at the Park Bowl. A special rate of 35 cents a line will be offered to league members, with an anticipated two or three line league.

Interested persons who are unable to make the meeting should contact Mr. Bridgeman in the men's P.E. department or call C. H. Heitz before 5 p.m. at UNderhill 1-9451.

President Bert Phillips Active in Many Athletics and Youth Organizations

"Never a dull moment" may be the best expression Bert Phillips could use to describe his senior year at San Francisco State College.

The friendly Bert Phillips is most widely known on campus because he is student body president. Being a vivacious person he also has many other activities on and off campus which tend to make him a busy person.

Bert Phillips came to San Francisco State from Oakland Technical High School in September 1950. Since that time he has been working toward a degree in Special Education for California Youth Authority. He plans to do some graduate work at State and do field work with the Youth Authority. He eventually plans to go to Stanford University for his PhD.

During the summer Bert was a director at a Y.M.C.A. camp at Loma Mar and at the day camp division in Oakland. Very often you can find him working at the college Union and when not in class he's busy in his office the ASSFSC.

When he has any spare time he uses it to work on his hobbies which are gardening, collecting post cards and matchbook covers. He is also program advisor for three church groups in Richmond.
